

True Friends

Bring me the horizon

Em
I wouldn't hold my breath if I was you
C
Cos' I'll forget but I'll never forgive you Am
Don't you know, don't you know?
Em
True friends stab you in the front

Em C
It's funny how things work out
Am Em
Such a bitter irony, like a kick right to the teeth
Em C
It fell apart right from the start
Am Em
But I couldn't even see the forest for the trees
(I'm afraid you asked for this)

Em
You got a lot of nerve but not a lot of spine
Em
You made your bed when you worried about mine
Em
This ends now

Em
I wouldn't hold my breath if I was you
C Am
Cos' I'll forget but I'll never forgive you

Don't you know, don't you know?
Em
True friends stab you in the front

Em
I wouldn't hold my breath if I was you
C Am
You broke my heart & there's nothing you can do

And now you know, now you know
Em
True friends stab you in the front

It's kind of sad cos' what we had
Well it could of been something
I guess it wasn't meant to be
So how dare you
Try and steal my flame just cos' yours faded
well hate is gasoline, a fire fuelling all my dreams
(I'm afraid you asked for this)

You got a lot of nerve but not a lot of spine
You made your bed when you worried about mine
This ends now

I wouldn't hold my breath if I was you...

Em Am
You can run but you can't hide
C Am
Time won't help you cos' karma has no deadline.
Em Am
You can run but you can't hide
Time won't help you cos' karma has no deadline.

I wouldn't hold my breath if I was you...

Em
And now you know, now you know
True friends stab you in the front
Em
And now you know, now you know

I wouldn't hold my breath if I was you...

Em
And now you know, now you know
True friends stab you in the front
Em
And now you know, now you know

True friends stab you in the front
